Your Next Step

A guide to finding direction

Dr. Emilia Arnaud, PhD

Welcome

Feeling unsure about your work or your calling is more common than you think. It does not mean you are lost. Often, it means something new is trying to grow.

This guide will help you slow down, look honestly at where you are, and choose one small next step. You don’t need the whole map today. You only need the next step.

How to use this guide

- Go slowly. One page a day is enough.
- Use a pen. Writing helps you think and remember.
- Be honest and kind with yourself. There are no wrong answers.
- Follow the 7-day plan at the end, or go at your own pace.

Where are you today?

Circle a number for each sentence. 1 = not true for me, 5 = very true for me.

I know what I'm good at.	1	2	3	4	5
My work feels meaningful.	1	2	3	4	5
I know what I want next.	1	2	3	4	5
I have time to think about my future.	1	2	3	4	5
I have people who support my plans.	1	2	3	4	5
I feel at peace with my choices.	1	2	3	4	5

Keep your answers. In a few weeks, try again and notice what has changed.

Four steps to begin

1

Look back to look forward

Your past holds clues. Think of times you felt alive, useful and fully yourself.

YOUR TURN

Write three moments when you felt proud of something you did. What were you doing? Who were you helping?

2

Name your strengths and values

Strengths are what you do well. Values are what matter most to you. Good direction honors both.

YOUR TURN

Circle the five values that matter most to you. Then list three things people often ask you for help with.

Family | Faith | Freedom | Security | Service | Creativity | Learning | Leadership | Health | Adventure | Stability | Justice

3

Notice what fills you and what drains you

For one week, pay attention to your energy. Small patterns point to big answers.

YOUR TURN

Write what gave you energy and what took it away.

Fills me	Drains me

4

Choose one small step

Make your next step small enough to do this week. Small steps build courage.

YOUR TURN

Complete these sentences.

My next step is: _____

I will do it by: _____

One person I will tell: _____

A moment with God

Read these verses in your Bible, slowly. Then write what stands out to you.

Proverbs 16:9 Jeremiah 29:11

Where do you sense God inviting you to trust Him with your next step?

Your 7-day plan

One small action a day. Check each box when you're done.

- [ ] Day 1 Read this guide and finish the self-check.
- [ ] Day 2 Write your three proud moments.
- [ ] Day 3 Choose your five values.
- [ ] Day 4 Ask two people: "What do you see as my strengths?"
- [ ] Day 5 Notice what fills you and what drains you.
- [ ] Day 6 Write your one small next step.
- [ ] Day 7 Take that step, and celebrate it.
